“Better pass boldly into that other world, in the full glory of some passion, than fade and wither dismally with age.”

The Dead

In Dubliners, James Joyce offers an astonishing and enduring portrayal of the city – a mirror in which the people of Dublin, as Joyce once wrote, could take “one good look at themselves.” Nearly a hundred years since its publication, this is an extraordinary opportunity to experience a collection of Joyce’s stories staged on a large scale for the first time in the city of their origin.

Following their award-winning productions Dublin By Lamplight, Freefall and Man of Valour, The Corn Exchange deftly captures the rich humour, the small cruelties and the celebrated epiphanies of Joyce’s iconic stories in their ground-breaking transformational style.

Draíocht is proud to present four special preview performances of The Corn Exchange and Dublin Theatre Festival’s co-production of Dubliners, which promises to be a provocative and startlingly relevant witness to a masterpiece.
